

Devise processes that find simplicity when complexity gathers

Compound distributed resources and disciplines – win their value. Let the professions exert constructive forces via concurrent processes. Secure the advance to primary objectives, on schedule.

Solyphony's conformance reaches from inception via procurement to design, production and delivery – as clients need. Its numerous articles order and remember every discrete activity in all contracted phases, intricately. The conduct of business swings upon the processes that authority defines and which delegated professionals execute, conclusively.

Figure 1 depicts the ubiquitous V form, \ analysis - synthesis / device, as Network Rail's GRIP 4/5 protocol might employ it to construct and validate contracted deliverables. Professional actors in the enterprise domain execute their authority concurrently, through purposeful processes. Project management's procedures schedule activities, trace and record assured states of articles; internal pm "products" report to authorities.

This illustration stands aside from designing and designs¹, presuming their veracity, herein. Independent bodies review (IDR) and, eventually, certificate (IDC) the deliverable object.

Business processes rise from activities of actors that define articles and relate them. Exerting authority, actors establish forceful links that express the dependence of articles, one upon the other. The emergent framework expresses the conduct of business via processes. Activity links may coincide with project management's scheduled links and sometimes question them.

Authority, enacting a link, transfer documents², records, conditional statements, instruction, and comments/questions to the recipient article. The recipient authority responds, at will. Conduits serve when absolute stringency stultifies. Solyphony regrets e-mail communication.

Solyphony's preference leaves all articles visible to every actor and available to comment. Exchanges with e.g. stakeholders might, initially, justify the confidentiality of an actor group. Authority and actors construct portals that reveal segments of their primary activities and records³
